THE ULTIMATE CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE®:

Delivering What Customers REALLY Want

There is a stunning difference between what customers want and what most organizations offer. And, as Scott McKain's research proves, this widening gulf creates dissatisfaction, distrust, and --worst of all for any business -- disloyalty.

What customers really want today is a superior client experience. Certainly, they want good service, a great product, and a competitive price. However, what creates client loyalty is a connection through personalization, differentiation, and emotion.

A critical question for you is: What is the ultimate experience that a customer could have as they do business with your organization? Scott McKain has vast experience and cutting-edge strategies on how to create distinction and deliver ultimate customer experiences®.

Your participants will discover what it takes to produce undying loyalty and endless referrals. By sharing specifics and stories from the iconic companies within Scott's portfolio of case studies, you'll discover how to deliver ultimate experiences to both internal and external customers.

If you're planning your next meeting, conference or convention, you want your audience to be inspired and engaged. You want them to leave prepared to take action and deliver tangible value. This program will specifically show them how to engage distinctively to expand customer loyalty and enhance business growth.

Key Audience Takeaways:

- The five steps of an Ultimate Customer Experience
- Why the experience – and not service – generates loyalty; and what you need to do to create it
- The information you need to personalize the experience, in order to intensify the customer's commitment to your organization
- The Six Disconnections Between Organizations and Customers — and how to bridge the gaps so you can engage distinctively

ICONIC

How Organizations and Leaders Attain, Sustain, and Regain the Ultimate Level of Distinction

In a changing marketplace, how do you create the highest level of distinction so that you don't get left behind? (Professionally or personally?) This keynote answers the critical question: What is an iconic organization or leader? And, it will clearly reveal how you can attain, sustain, or regain that status.

Being distinctive in the marketplace used to be the pinnacle of success. In today's global marketplace, that mountain is significantly more difficult to climb. Add the pervasive presence of social media and the competition for attention is more intense than ever before.

Merely standing out is more challenging than ever. It now has less impact on sustained growth. Today, to become a compelling company, leader, or brand on a positive trajectory, one must attain iconic status.

Scott will share fresh stories on iconic professionals and organizations. You'll learn there are only two factors upon which customers and employees judge your organization. He will reveal unique examples like the millionaire chimney sweep. You'll learn about the single-store steakhouse in a mid-sized city that has higher revenue than New York City's famed Tavern on the Green.

What is the outcome of this keynote presentation? You and your organization will be ready to achieve iconic status through sound research and practical wisdom.

Planning your next meeting, annual conference or association convention? It's not enough for your audience to be inspired and engaged. They must leave ready to take action from the tangible value of their ultimate experience. That's what Scott McKain delivers like no one else.

Key Audience Takeaways:

- The Five Factors of Iconic Performance
- The ONLY two factors upon which customers will judge you

- Why much of what you've heard – like “under promise/over deliver,” “defense wins championships,” “sell harder” – does not work in today's marketplace of multiple generations and cultures.
- Improved results from learning the required steps for Iconic performance
- Expanded appreciation of the importance of personal responsibility in team success
- Advanced skills and thinking on the important issue of improving processes
- Enhanced precision about goals and organizational direction

DEVELOPING A DISTINCTIVE CULTURE:

Creating Ultimate Employee Experiences in a Multi-generational Workforce

You've probably heard it before: culture will always surpass strategy. Culture is the primary factor that determines how we execute. So, how do we develop a culture that creates distinction -- especially in this time with so many diverse generations and cultures working together?

In this keynote, Scott helps you develop a game plan that respects our differences – and helps you draw strength from your diversity.

Attendees of this highly engaging presentation will learn how to communicate more effectively. They'll grow in their understanding of the unique expectations of today's modern workforce.

Scott's insights on current workforce trends are globally recognized as cutting edge. His masterful storytelling ability means that your attendees will enjoy the speech -- and execute the strategies.

After this keynote, you and your attendees will understand what it takes to win in a workplace with multiple generations. You'll be prepared to elevate opportunities and embrace change.

If you're planning your next meeting, conference or convention, you want your audience to be inspired and engaged. After Scott McKain's presentation, they will leave ready to take action. And, you'll receive tangible value from an ultimate experience.

Key Audience Takeaways:

- Why “different” from how we do it doesn't mean “incorrect” in how it's done
- How generational differences can create distinction when we develop an open, accepting organizational culture
- How to thrive in a workplace with multiple generations, and how to work with people who think differently than you
- The role of mentors – including “reverse mentorship”...in other words, learning from those younger than you

THE ICONIC SALES PROFESSIONAL:

How to Stand Out and Win in a Hyper-competitive Marketplace

Most organizations are selling customers and prospects exactly like their competitors. As Scott McKain's research reveals, part of the reason is that organizations have not thoroughly educated their sales professionals. Many salespeople have not specifically learned how to emphasize the differences required to make their product or service the superior choice. In this program, Scott reveals the specific steps to win sales in a hyper-competitive marketplace.

Scott relates unique stories from iconic companies and professionals from his portfolio of client case studies. He provides the strategies and tactics required to deliver iconic sales performance.
